

NIDUS October 2024 Mentoring Session

How to Win Over Editors and Reviewers: Pearls from a Journal Editor Tuesday, October 15, 2024

You've completed your study, you've drafted the paper, and you are ready to submit. What are the key areas to consider as you draft and finalize your paper?

In this webinar, Dr. Inouye will share her insights and lessons learned as Editor in Chief of JAMA Internal Medicine. She will share what editors look for in papers, and provide an overview of the publication process at a medical journal. Bring your questions and we'll address them together! John Devlin, PharmD, will moderate this mentoring session.

Tuesday, October 15, 2024, 12:00pm - 1:00pm EST

Meeting ID: 943 8807 5977 | Phone: +1 646 931 3860

Registration Link: <https://tinyurl.com/2evrxbef>

All NIDUS webinars are free!

Sharon K. Inouye, MD, MPH

Dr. Inouye is Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School and Director of the Aging Brain Center at the Marcus Institute for Aging Research, Hebrew SeniorLife. She developed the Hospital Elder Life Program (HELP) to provide Age Friendly Care, implemented worldwide. She developed the CAM, the most widely used delirium tool worldwide, translated into >20 languages and cited >20,000 times.

NIH-funded since 1989, with >80 grants including a current >$13 million PCORI grant on HELP, >$13 million P01 grant on delirium and dementia and >$4 million R33 grant for the NIDUS II Delirium Research Network. With >400 scientific publications, she was recognized by Thomson Reuters ScienceWatch as one of the World's Most Influential Scientific Minds.

She serves as Editor-in-Chief of JAMA Internal Medicine and is an elected member of the National Academy of Medicine (2011), AAP and ASCI. She serves as a member of NIA Council, the NASEM Board on Healthcare Services, and the NASEM Committee on Women in Science, Engineering, and Medicine. She was recognized as PBS-Next Avenue 2020 Influencer of Aging.

