

Network for Investigation of Delirium: Unifying Scientists

2024 Resources and Upcoming Events

NIDUS is an NIA-funded research network dedicated to advancing the study of delirium through development of research resources, career development opportunities, and dissemination of delirium science.

Visit our website at deliriumnetwork.org

- Register for a free account to access all resources and receive newsletters
- Each month, read a new blog post on current research: deliriumnetwork.org/blog
- Many additional resources: Recorded lectures and webinars, the Delirium Bibliography, delirium measurement tools, and more!

Explore NIDUS University

- By organizing our resources into frequently asked questions, NIDUS University makes it easier to identify pertinent resources relevant to common types of research queries and projects
- Visit the one-stop shop for answers to “How To” questions

Browse the Delirium Research Hub and submit your study

The NIDUS Research Resources Core’s Delirium Research Hub is a searchable database of completed and ongoing delirium research studies, intended to enable research collaborations, meta-analyses, and systematic reviews

- Submit your basic delirium study information for inclusion in this resource
- Visit <https://deliriumnetwork.org/delirium-research-hub/> for more information on submitting your study

Learn more about the Delirium Boot Camp

The Delirium Boot Camp is a 2.5 day intensive training course on delirium research and methodology, featuring interactive workshops led by leaders in the field

- The 2024 Boot Camp will be held at UNC-Chapel Hill, October 27-29
- Recordings from previous Boot Camp sessions are available on the NIDUS website: <https://deliriumnetwork.org/career-development/past-boot-camp-presentations/>

Apply for a NIDUS Pilot Grant

The NIDUS Pilot Awards & Innovation Core will award at least two $40,000 pilot grants for proposals related to delirium research

- Applications for the 2024 cycle are due December 6, 2024 and will be awarded in Summer 2025.
- Find application information on the NIDUS Pilots page: <https://deliriumnetwork.org/pilots/>
